We claim the right of nomination of State Senator of the 5th District, for the term of Pocahontas County, E. I. ROLL.

The National Democratic Convention.

Up to going to press nothing definite has been received respecting the Presidential Convention assembled in Chicago on Tuesday. The city seems to have been full of people last week, however, interested in the preliminaries, and special pains were being taken to have some prominent friend of silver for temporary Chairman, so as to give the silver cause the first chance to be heard by the country.

Boies and Bland seemed to have the lead for the nomination up to the last advice. It seems to be conceded that an out and out silver plank will be adopted, and the currency question will be the issue in the pending campaign. The most that may be expected by the presence of Mr. Whitney and other prominent friends of gold is to persuade the convention not to censure the administration. If nothing good can be said, not to say anything.

The latest sensation seems to be the admission of G. Fred Williams, of Massachusetts, to the silver cause, and the development of silver sentiment in several unexpected places in New York and Maryland. Every thing portends a political upheaval that may surpass that of 1890 in its final results on the citizenship of all sections.

James Gibson is at work these days
Upon the public road,
James strives and works in many
To carry out his mode.

James is an energetic man,
A man of judgment, too,
He builds his bridges on a plan
That never drops him through.

James is a worthy neighbor, too,
A poor man's friend indeed;
He does what other would not do
To help in time of need.

James has a jolly set of boys
Now working on the pike,
No need to make for trucks nor
No need to make a strike. [Lays]

James Fisher is the largest man
Belonging to the crowd,
He is a stout and steady hand,
And never speaks too loud.

The smallest man is Walter Case,
Though nearly crowned and stout,
He goes right through the mud and
And drives the team along. [Cries]

Don Jackson is a noble hand,
He will not flinch nor shrink,
He'll do his part with any man
At any kind of work.

George Jackson is a robust boy,
He is both stout and quick,
He goes for his prey and try
The shovel and the pick.

Bill Agnes, another noble hand,
And known on the work,
Is one who loves not mud nor sand,
And one who will not shrink.

Shower is the rock I'm told,
He takes on a splendid job,
Three times a day with shovels on,
You ought to see him at [Lays]

Ridpath's Plain Talk.

INDIANA'S HISTORICAL SOCIETY
DENOUNCES THE ORATEST
FALSHOOD OF THE AGE.

The following was written by the eminent historian John Clark Ridpath in response to an inquiry by Frank Horan, chairman of the Democratic central committee of the Fifth Indiana district, as to whether Mr. Ridpath would run for Congress on a Democratic ticket. He had always been a Republican: "There is just one great question before the American people, and that is whether they will be compelled by the international gold conspiracy, having its bifurcations in London and New York, to transact their business and in particular to pay their debts with a cornered dollar worth two for one, fraudulently substituted for the dollar of the law and the contract, or whether they (the people) will reclaim their right to transact their business and pay their debts according to the terms of the contract and according to justice."

"It is said by the emissaries of the gold propaganda that those who advocate the restoration of our currency and money to the exact condition which it held prior to the act of 1873 are dishonest; that they wish to coin 50 cents' worth of silver into a dollar and compel creditors to accept that in lieu of an honest dollar. Then this is never was a greater sophism and falsehood. What the people desire and what they intend to do is to coin 100 cents' worth of silver—that is a dollar's worth, or 37½ grains, of silver—into a dollar, and by that act to break the corner on gold and reduce the exaggerated purchasing power of that metal to its normal standard."

"If any man dare say that 37½ grains of pure silver are not a dollar's worth, let him be challenged with the question whether that amount of uncoined silver will not purchase as much of the average of 25 of the great staples of the American market, including real estate and labor, as the same silver would purchase 25 years ago. Let him answer that truly or forever after hold his peace. As a matter of fact the uncoined silver in the American market is worth more of the average of our great staples than the same would buy in 1875."

"What then? The limited supply of gold in the world has been cornered by those who own it. They are few—very few—and the people are millions. The price of the cornered gold has advanced more and more, until it has become worth almost two for one. All the while cornered gold has cornered the fallacy that is in it. The gold eagle still proclaims itself $10, although it has advanced in purchasing power until it is nearly $20. Under this obscure and fraudulent process all productive industries have been crushed to the earth. They who labor in the fields and shops have been virtually ruined."

"They claim that the gold coin is the 'sound money,' the 'honest money,' of the world, and that silver money—real, primary silver money, of our old standard ratio—is dishonest and unsound money is the most false, as it is the most adroit, deception ever put forth by interested parties to defraud the people of a great nation."

Trustee's Notice of Sale.

By virtue of a deed of trust executed to N. C. McNeil, trustee, by A. L. Dilley, dated on the 12th day of May, 1894, and recorded in the Clerk's office of the County Court of Pocahontas County, West Virginia, in Deed Book No. 29, page 27, to secure the payment of a certain bond for the purchase of land, and default having been made in the payment thereof, and being required so to do by the holder of said bond, I, N. C. McNeil, will on THE 31ST DAY OF JULY, 1896, commencing at one o'clock p. m., at the front door of the Court-house of said Pocahontas County, West Virginia, proceed to sell, by way of public auction, for cash, to the highest bidder, the property conveyed by said deed of trust, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy said indebtedness. Said property is situated in said county in the town of Marlinton, and consists of the following articles: One Seven Column Washington Hand Press; One Job press; Fifty Prints of Type with Cases, and two Impression Stones, together with all other Furniture, Fixtures, and Appliances now in publishing a newspaper in said town known as "The Pocahontas Herald." N. C. McNeil, Trustee.

Fiduciary Notice.

The amounts of the following 60 shares are before me for settlement: I, E. Moore, Executor of Margaret Moore, deceased.
E. E. Moore, Guardian of John Young, Minor; and Charles Young, A. L. McNEEL, Trustee.
A. L. McNEEL, Trustee.

On Saturday, June 27th, about ninety men went into the Tug Shaaf at Pittston, not far from Wilkesbarre, Pa., not one of whom is believed to be alive. They were in the act of strengthening the supports, when masses of rock and earth caved in and closed up all avenues of escape. Every approach to this dark living tomb is barred by enormous masses of rock, and in the mine there is a large quantity of water increasing all the time, so but little chance remains for the recovery of the bodies. John Hughes, whose brother is among the missing, heard the rumbling noise made by the "seques" and tried to persuade him to leave the rotten mine. Michael said: "No, John, I won't go. Your mother needs all we can earn. You had better remain here." John would not stay, and upon coming to the surface told the engineer things were in a bad shape below. A more heart-rending scene cannot be easily imagined. Many of the widows and orphans have staid around the entrance day and night, others have secluded themselves in their desolate homes. All are hoping against hope. Those acquainted with the mine are of the opinion that buried in the deep recesses, behind impassable barriers of rock, and perhaps surrounded by rising waters, there can be no life.

Too Tired to Smile

Weak, Weary and Worn

Dizziness, Impure Blood—Cured by Hood's.

Many weak and worn-out women know just what this means. In totally unfit condition for work, they force themselves through the daily routine of duties, almost too discouraged to even look for relief. But it is to be found in Hood's Sarsaparilla, which makes the blood pure, builds up the nerves, makes the weak strong and gives a cheerful spirit. Read this: "I have suffered more than tongue can tell from dizziness and severe pains in my head. I also felt so low spirited that I often said I wished I was dead. A friend suggested that I try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I gave it a trial and was more than surprised to see what a great change came over me after I had taken the first bottle. I felt better right away. I have now taken nearly five bottles and am happy to say I am entirely cured. I would advise all suffering on account of impure blood to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. It will cure." Mrs. Wm. Smith, 212 E. 9th St., N. Y. City. Hood's Pills become the favorite cathartic with everyone who tries them. 25c per bottle.

...The young people of Buckeye County spent the Fourth in M. DeBenedictis' sugar grove in a very enjoyable manner, on the banks of the Green River. There were between sixty and seventy in the party. A very beautiful luncheon was served. There were croquet parties, swinging, boating, promoting, and fishing by way of diversion.

The authorized capital is $200,000, and the company is organized for producing electricity and supplying the same for light and power. James S. Lewis, Sherman C. Bartlett, and Harry Hirschfeld, of New York, Arthur L. McKay, of Brooklyn, and Drury W. Cooper, of Elizabeth, New Jersey, are the incorporators.

...The Bath News communicates the intelligence that Mrs. Mary J. Clerk, wife of A. Given Clerk, Clerk of Bath County, died June 25th, aged 68 years. She was the mother of John Clerk, of Mill Point and has other relatives in her county. She was a consistent member of the Presbyterian Church. There is much sorrow in the community among the large congregation and friends of the deceased, and for her husband, one of the most widely known citizens in the county, and her eight children, the deepest sympathy is felt.

...MARTINSON passed a pleasant Fourth of July. The evening, numbering about forty boys and girls, gathered at an early hour to the shade of the wide-spreading maple-tree that is such a conspicuous feature of the Price Orchard, and passed eight or ten hours in joyous hilarity. There was a slight interruption by rain, but it seemed however to add zest and variety to the occasion. A party of young ladies and gentlemen, resorted to the Laurel Bend, near B. M. Young's, and picnicked on the Roman. It should be noted that neither there in the shade of the overhanging forest, and is an ideal place for rural enjoyment. An elegant repast was served, and the time was spent in games, promiscuous music, and repetitions of a story old as Eden but fresh as the peony drops showered down by a lovely summer shower that lingered there for a few minutes about noon. We hope it may be our pleasure to hear from our nice young people all over the county had as pleasant a Fourth for 1896.

...Monday, June 29th, was a notable day in the rooms of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court 12th Street and 25th Avenue, New York. Shortly after twelve o'clock four young ladies and 120 young men qualified as practitioners of law, the clerks reading the oath and the parties holding up their hands. The four female lawyers were Misses Marcella Lilly, Anita Hutchinson, Margaret, and Annie Fink. And Miss Anna Shepard Fink. Mrs. Fink is the wife of an attorney in large practice, and will devote herself to office work. The most first-class on examination, and had read from lawyers preliminary studies. The others three to four years. Miss Hutchinson is the only woman in New York who has received the degree of Master of Laws. She has been selected by the Woman's Legal Education Society as a lecturer. All four of the four female lawyers were married to young men, and were pleased to find that they were all married to good lawyers, and would gladly make a pair of pointers were soon secured in their way of thinking.

Mrs. Mary Holt and children are on a visit to Mingo, her former home, and where her father, Capt. Marshall resides. Miss Annie McNeel, of Hillsboro, paid Marlinton a hasty visit on Thursday. Miss May Bartlett returned with her.

Dr. and Mrs. Cunningham are off to Monterey, where a pleasant time awaits them in that attractive town. It is probable the Doctor will take in the great Richmond outfit, while absent.

Miss Ida Smith has a flourishing lemon tree, and an orange tree growing in the garden. It now looks as if they may be the place for home prepared lemons and oranges, some future Fourth of July.

Wm. Sharp, of Elray, spent the Fourth in Marlinton in quest of bass, but the water was too turbid for successful sport owing to the washing showers up Stony Creek.

Mr. Marshall and son, cattle dealers from Northern Virginia, were in the county last week, looking for "pick and choice."

Miss Birdie Baxter has closed a prosperous and interesting season on Laurel Run.

Walter Mann, at Elray, is having his new house painted.

Miss Alice Baxter is in Monroe taking lessons in music, and decorative art.

Henry Hill is preparing to build a residence and furniture shop, at the Carter cross roads, on a lot purchased of Lee Carter.

There will be preaching at the Indian Draft next Sunday, (July 12th), by Rev. W. T. Price at 11 o'clock.

Meers G. H. McLaughlin and Arthur Lawson attended the Confederate reunion at Richmond.

The Rainbow.

FRIDAY afternoon, about five o'clock, one of the most beautiful rain-bows witnessed this summer appeared in a cloud overhanging Marlinton. From the point of view occupied by this spectator it extended from the Bridge to the Old Orchard.

The appearance of this beautiful bow, with its blended yet clearly defined hues, has been suggestive of recorded literature. The Greek poet and priest hailed in its appearance the presence of Iris, one of the most lovely of the celestial messengers, or her mission of peace and plenty, love and pleasure to the young and hopeful.

The Christian sees in it that God has not forgotten his promise that seed time and harvest will not fail long as they are needed and the present order of things continue. One of the most charming poems of our language saw in the rainbow—

"Love's bright arms extending To clasp a weeping world."

"The bow over Marlinton last Friday, just on the eve of the late war, was a masterpiece of the kind, and those who saw that bow in the clouds will never behold anything to surpass it until they stand before the rainbow around the throne."

Picnic at Elray.

Special to The Times. ELRAY, W. Va., July 1st, 1896. On the evening of the "Fourth," a party of young people of Elray and vicinity, together with Price Moore and Miss Ivy Hannah, of Frost, and Miss Doris McClintic, of Mill Point, met in the sugar grove near the residence of Henry Barlow, Esq., for the purpose of celebrating the "Glorious Fourth."

The evening was spent very pleasantly, and all regretted that it passed so soon, but we should remember that pleasure is the flower that passes, and that remembrance is the lasting perfume.

At about 5 o'clock p. m. the whole party took supper at Mr. and Mrs. Henry Barlow, after which all returned to their homes feeling that they had added one more pleasant afternoon to their lives.

SOUTHERN GIRLS.

CLAYTON LICK. We are done working corn, and ready for the harvest field if the weather permits. Philip Kramer had corn in silk a week or two ago. Can any one beat that?

Mr. Job Hannah and Miss Maggie Kervine were down gathering their cherries.

Mr. Beck, the great sheep-buyer, was in this part looking after his flocks. He will pay as much as $1.00 for a good one.

It was a very nice crowd, indeed, and was not to the thing. It was the 18th anniversary of our glorious freedom, and we well celebrated. In the afternoon there were four addresses made, and one of the speakers called himself a case of something to make people want. He said the manager, Prof. Joel O. Hill, knew that the 4th had eaten exactly too much, and that was why he was called upon to speak.

Prof. O. E. M. was present and gave substantial aid to the singing. Prof. John Roake was also present and did much to promote interest.

Just about the time we were expecting to hear something from Mr. D. A. Beck's team broke loose and swept through the crowd like a storm, a fence rail attached to the harness making it more exciting as well as more dangerous. Fortunately, however, no one was seriously hurt. The horse ran about a mile and was caught.

It is said that Lovelia will have a high school in the near future. Let us work for it. We will have to have new houses anyway, and why not build one large enough to accommodate all who may wish to attend?

A good joke is going the rounds now. A certain young man whose beard is beginning to sprout, went to see his girl not long since, and was so well content that he stayed all night, so he said that he went to sleep in the corner with the girl sitting by his side. As he did not wake, she got sleepy and went to bed, leaving him to his fate. The next morning when the old gentleman got up this young man was still asleep in the corner with both arms around a chum that happened to be sitting near. M.C.

DUNNORE.

Still it raineth and the roads are still muddy, because some of them have not been worked for four years. No wonder that the two lower districts kick against taxation. They got from $1000 to $1,500 a year for roads and bridges, and toll besides.

Wheat harvest has commenced. The Sunday School picnic at Green Bank was largely attended and enjoyed by all.

Mr. Oliver's picnic at Green Bank was also largely attended. Every thing passed off quietly.

We understand there were a few broken hearts at Frost. In order to have lots of fun there must be some excitement.

The picnic on Elk was a success. Dr. A. C. Jones, of the University of Va., spent last week in town. He may locate at Green Bank.

Miss Grace and Harry Jones, Miss Eagle, John Wilson and Miss Hiner, all of Doe Hill, spent last week with friends and relatives.

Jacob Taylor and Zinn left Tuesday for Huttonsville.

Old Smoke was here a few days. Prof. John A. McLaughlin was in town Monday.

Several of the boys have gone to the lumber camps.

B. T. McElwee is off to the Levies.

Walter Bird is improving. Mrs. Geo. N. Tacy is very ill. Mrs. L. E. Campbell is on the sick list.

Elie went down the road Monday. JACOB.

HILLSBORO.

W. A. Mann accompanied by Miss Anna Pogue are visiting relatives and friends here.

John Sydenstricker and bride have returned from their bridal-tour.

Mrs. E. I. Holt is visiting her father at Mingo.

G. R. Curry left Thursday for Harper's Camp after his son Joseph who was badly hurt, but was improved so much as to be able to come home.

Geo. Clark and Joe Walton made a trip to Frankfort, Monday.

Misses Elizabeth Seely and Mary Doolittle were visiting at L. E. Board's have returned home.

W. N. Wysock and son spent Sunday in town.

Geo. Moore was the guest of Mrs. D. C. Kinnison over Sunday.

The Fourth of July passed off in a very quiet manner. The day was fine and warm. The people were out in the parks and on the streets. There were many fireworks and a great deal of merriment. The people were very happy and enjoyed the day very much.

The yellow daffodils are in bloom under the big tree and beside the small bay with eyes filled with tears that are now and then with paper burnt powder, merrymaking and merriment.

The participants in the celebration are awaiting the next one with expectancy, but also for our hopes. The cold, misty veil of futurity hangs over us a pall, and just ahead of us maybe the subtle bubble of death, under which a no. 10 shoe may catch and send us down a night out to overtake the remains of our deceased Fourth.

There is some history connected with the Fourth. There is a reason for all the fire-crackers and soiled pants and muddy dresses. The dogs and cats are not frightened and catapaulted for nothing. Our Fourth was not gathered up a bruised, insensible ball of nothing, self-existent and self-propelling.

There are, no doubt, orators who sometimes rehearse the dramas of Lexington and Bunker Hill in a lat-splitting manner, Yorktown the finale. They beseech you to be patriotic, and patriotism according to the John Hopkins version means "Support me at the next election."

The O. K. history is as follows: In 1492 Columbus went to the store for some spice and red pepper to season his mother's mince pie. He took with him three small vessels; (see Holmes' History), supposed to have been bark-buckets. He ran over something then supposed to have been India, but some astronomers by their geometrical calculations pronounce it to be the "United States of America, Consolidated."

There were too many religious persons in England at this time, and this and a March attack of gold fever caused some parties, (now dead) to come to America. After a while they grew wealthy, and England wanted them to furnish her pocket money.

America felt a bill of objections, but was downed by Tom Reed's method of counting votes that were not voted. The first tariff-for-revenue bill ever introduced was now passed by England. It required the colonists to buy 2-cent stamps, and then fined them 43 cents for buying said stamps. The people did not object openly, but there were some hard feelings caused by it. The stamps were destroyed and England cursed at and the stamp-peddlers were kicked over the divide and away down the western slope of the following week.

England then destroyed the wells and frog-ponds so people could get no water. Then they said "drunken." In the meantime they sent large quantities of chestnut leaves and put off on the U. S. A. Consolidated as genuine Morgan and Wright Pneumatic Tea.

About this time an American Smart Alec discovered that the bill did not state whether the was to be made in a tin or earthenware vessel. Promptly upon this discovery some of the colonists smashed some gobs of pork-berries on their countenances, and went on the toasts and threw about nine billion pounds into a convenient mill-pond. England growled a low menacing growl, and America drew the lions tail through the palings and said this justice gave it a quarter-turn. England looked around cautiously and took in the situation. Then a large smile stole softly over his features, and his side shook right lustre in anticipation of the sport, pretty much the same as an eagle when he surveys his prey.

The day for the battle at last arrived, and when the gates were opened the world poured in about the ring-side. America sat about in the corner, and America grabbed the gates. Promptly at 3:30 Madame Malodon said, "Go it, boys," and they went. England swung heavily, but found no landing place, while the U. S. A. C. offered gently into England's bosom with a motion similar to the kind of a cat when falling from the neighborhood of a fence.

England once the ropes and smashed England. Decision, no contest. 12 years and 3 months.

The demand for good short stories never ends. The difficulty is to meet the demand with nothing but stories of first-class quality. No paper in America does this better than The Youth's Companion. Week after week and year after year it comes out, always with good stories, new in plot and skillful in treatment, until one wonders where it gets them, and how it preserves its infinite variety. The editors of no other publication have a larger number of manuscripts to choose from. Over seven thousand were received in the last year's competition. The result is that The Companion has in every issue several short stories of the kind that make weariness an impossibility. The paper includes among its regular contributors such writers as Harold Frederic, C. A. Stephens, E. W. Thomson, and J. L. Harbison. Its special holiday editions are particularly noteworthy. The Fourth of July number this year contains some remarkable stories of the adventurous Fourth of July order. They teach a good lesson of patriotism.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she clung to Castoria.

When she became a Man, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

In showing how the glorious day is celebrated, even in the most remote parts of the world, they are interesting because they tell how each section celebrates in its own way.

LOBELIA.

I will give a few items from this place which may be of interest to some one.

Rev. C. M. Anderson is visiting his parents at this writing.

Rev. W. S. Anderson is paying a visit to his parents, but he returns to Va. soon to take the place of a minister not able to preach this summer.

E. C. Eagle, who has of late returned from the State University, gave us a lift at the debate Friday night.

Prof. D. L. Barlow, of Edray, was among us last Friday, but we are sorry to say on account of sickness he was unable to be at the school house that night.

The examination, which was held for the purpose of granting Free School Diplomas, passed off very pleasantly, five stood the examination and from all appearances they will get their diplomas.

The summer school has closed and Lobelia can say for the first time that she has had seven months of school in one year.

MU.

We are having rain in abundance and everything seems to grow. Corn is very weedy. Owing to the wet weather some people have not been able to work their corn thus far. Oats is making a large growth, and there are fine crops of oats in this part. Every kind of fruit is very plentiful, which goes to show that a wet season is far better than a dry one. Plenty of huckleberries on Michel Mountain, where hundreds of bushels were gathered last year. This has been so far a remarkably fine season.

Rev. G. F. Moore and family passed here, en route to Buckhannon.

James F. Hively, Esq., has returned home after an absence of three months, spent in canvassing.

Fred, G. E. Moore and Brad Shapp have returned from Concord Normal School, where they spent a successful term. Mr. Moore graduated in Postmaster with high honors, and he certainly is a fine artist in drawing and writing. Their many friends gave them a warm welcome.

Mr. E. S. Grimes has returned from Ansonby, where he had been attending school.

The festival at Front was not largely attended, owing to the inclemency of the weather, but was very nice, and all enjoyed the excellent refreshments prepared by the ladies of the community.

Some of the relatives of the bride attended Rev. Fisher's wedding.

Rev. Anderson will preach at Mt Zion Sunday at 11 p. m.

Mr. Kenna Fisher's little girl was bitten by a dog last week in the town and the eye and the eye were very much affected from the bite.

There was singing at Mt Zion on Sunday last. A good sing and largely attended. Yours truly,

Wm. H. Moore

What is

CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine or other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrup, and Caducor. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use. Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and cures Colic. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Cakes, Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted for children I recommend it as superior to any other laxative for use."
Dr. G. C. Osborn,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various patent medicines which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, calomel, soothing syrup and other harmful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
Dr. J. F. Koonce,
Corry, Ark.

"I have used Castoria for many years, and I can say that it is the best medicine I have ever used for children. It is so well adapted for children that I recommend it as superior to any other laxative for use."

In the Greenbrier Valley

The following is an account of an interview with Mr. Arthur English, Assistant Attorney of the Interior, in relation to his late visit here at the Supreme Court, where he appeared in counsel in a prominent criminal case. It is clipped from the Washington Post:

THE large number of persons who are seeking the summer resorts along the Chesapeake and Ohio coast this year indicates that the magnificent scenery and healthiness of that country are beginning to be appreciated," said Arthur English, at Bannock's last night.

I have just returned from a trip to the Greenbrier Valley, and skinned

The popularity of Hot Springs

this year appears destined to win a reputation that will reach over the country and draw large numbers to that beautiful and healthy valley. The beauty of this Virginia country is such that it fascinates and leaves an impression which never fades or grows less fascinating. The streams abound in bass and trout, and the large size of this year is particularly rich and brilliant.

The greatest attraction is the prospect of tired and languid bodies, few days amid these mountains quickly drain the blood of the most staid and bilious individual, which life can produce, and the effect is to fill with interest where

We claim the right of nomination of State Senator of the 25th District, for the term of 1896-1898, by the nominees of Democratic County, E. J. WOLT.

COL. JOHN T. McGRATH passed the crucial test of an interview, and was found to be solid silver.

T is passing strange that less than one-third of the Chicago convention should pass the sentence on two-thirds of the convention and call them fanatics. There must have been a great poverty of language also or talk word would not come up so often.

In spite of the fact that the Clinton Republican shows that Chris Payne, the negro recently nominated in Fayette County for the Legislature, is really a talented man, and chosen right, in ranks in the breast of some of our stalwart Democratic Republicans. We recently overheard a conversation between two leading Republicans in which they took the position that this would lose them the Senatorial District this fall.

GENERAL WATTS is assured of the nomination for Governor, in spite of the howl raised by his enemies that he belongs to the "Chilton gang." If he does belong to a "gang" dominated Chilton, we cannot think that is very damning. The Chiltons are hard-working Democratic leaders, who have the good of the party at heart and have contributed to the success of Democracy in West Virginia in no small degree. No other Democrat should deny the Chilton brothers for giving their time and talents to the cause.

Tax North has dictated the policy of the party so long that they find it hard to accept their state of minority gracefully, and no doubt many of them will commit the unpardonable sin of belting. While it is a pity that these northern Democrats should complain, still the North has been almost solidly Republican since the war, and most of the States have voted for a Republican President with great regularity, while they have reaped the benefits of Democratic administration inaugurated by the South and West. The strength of a presidential campaign will not be impaired by their belting, for it is of no material difference should we lose them by a large or small vote.

The National Convention.

The late convention at Chicago ushered in a new era of the Democratic party. There is much in course of action inaugurated there to remind one of the radical reforms in the money question of the times of Andrew Jackson, the man whom we revere next to Thomas Jefferson.

At Chicago, for the first time, the North and East took a back seat, and were relegated to the place to which they belong. They have always had a great representation in our national conventions, even the States west Republican, and have heretofore dictated the policy of our party, the powerless to help it in times of election. That glorious day has come, however, which we have long hoped and waited for, the time when the West and South would stand against the North and teach them that they are not all-powerful.

The fearless statesmen at Chicago have taken up the gauntlet thrown down by the Republican party, and have joined issue on the money question, which is the leading question of the campaign. The platform is in substance as follows:

Free and unlimited coinage of silver, at the ratio of 16 to 1, with full legal tender powers, and legislation to prevent for the future the demonization of any kind of legal tender money by private contract. We are opposed to the practice of surrendering the option to redeem the obligations of the government in either gold coin or silver coin.

That the power to issue notes be taken from the national banks. Tariff duties should be levied for purposes of revenue to support a government honestly and economically administered.

The convention declared that the Income Tax was constitutional and the Supreme Court censured for its adverse decision. Congress is directed to take any steps they may find in their power to put an income tax in operation.

That the most efficient way to protect American labor is to prevent the importation of foreign pauper labor, and to remedy our present 'vicious monetary system.' The consolidation of railway companies and the formation of trusts is condemned.

The prodigal waste of money by the lavish appropriations of Republican Congresses is denounced. Also the arbitrary interference by federal authorities in local affairs, especially objecting to government by injunction.

We favor the admission of the territories of Arizona and New Mexico as States, and recommend that Alaska be allowed a delegate in Congress.

No man should be eligible for a third term of the Presidential office. No names shall be arbitrarily dropped from the pension roll, etc. Sympathy is extended to the people of Cuba in their heroic struggle for liberty and independence.

Opposed to life tenure in office, and favor appointments based upon merit.

The federal government should care for the great waterways of the republic.

The North sulked a good deal over this platform. Daniels defeated Hill for temporary chairman, the minority report of the national committee being sustained in this, as well as in the cases of contesting delegations.

Six men were nominated for President. Bland was named by Senator Vest on the grounds that he was the pioneer silver man. Turpin nominated Matthews as the former candidate from Indiana. Lewis of Georgia, nominated Bryan of Nebraska, the brilliant orator of the West, and the people's champion. White, of Iowa, nominated Boies as the leader of the Democracy of Iowa. John B. Rhea nominated "The South's greatest Democrat, Joe Blackburn." John R. McLean, of Ohio, was nominated by A. W. Patrick as the man who would carry Ohio. The ticket named was William J. Bryan, of Nebraska, for President, and Arthur Sewall, of Maine, Vice-President. The Convention adjourned Saturday.

(Our colored friends.)
Fine growing weather. Hay harvest begun. All the farmers are pleased with their hay crop. Oats and corn promise well.

We have seen a lot of rattlesnakes in this section some with as many as twelve or thirteen rattles. Wm. Wilson killed a copper head which measured 2 ft. 10 in.

Uncle Ben Wilson is dangerously ill at this writing.
Rev. Rogers preached on Knappa Creek the 12th inst. Rev. Scott preached two interesting sermons last Sunday to a large audience. We have an interesting Sunday school. May God bless it to the upbuilding of our race. C. W.

County Court.

The court has been in session since Tuesday, the time being passed in the auditing of accounts of the county expenses. Up to going to press no action has been taken in regard to the sheriffalty, which is the most interesting question before the court.
R. P. Manley is here for a final adjustment of the court-house accounts.

Nervous Prostration

Could Not Sleep - Had No Appetite

Cured in Body and Mind by Hood's Sarsaparilla

"I suffered very much for a long time with nervous prostration. I had about given up all hope of ever getting better when Hood's Sarsaparilla was recommended to me and I believe it my duty to let others know the benefit I derived from it. I Could Not Sleep at night, was without appetite, and what little I did eat I was unable to keep on my stomach. After taking the first bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, which seemed to do me some good, I tried a second and continued to feel better. I got up feeling
